SAYS INTERNES ARE 'KILLERS'

Poor Patients Are Victims of Inexperienced Surgery, Declares Dr. Fallon

Murder disguised as surgery is being practiced in New England hospitals by inexperienced internes, according to charges made by the New England Federation of Medical Examining Boards. The charges were made by Dr. M. P. Fallon of Worcester, who urged the boards to take immediate steps to protect patients from such "criminal homicide."

It is nearly always the poor who suffer from the criminal inexperience of these young internes, the Worcester surgeon pointed out, as the poor are compelled to trust themselves to the services of the hospitals, they are, and are seldom protected by the advice of family physicians.

Young men just out of college should not be allowed to operate until they have had a general practitioner's supervision, declared Dr. Fallon. "Before they are allowed to take liberties with the bodies and the lives of those they treat they should take a special examination as to fitness for the important specialty. It is up to the medical profession to clear its name of this reproach."

Manchester, N. H., June 2.—Herbert Adolph of Boston, and Vincent Brown of Methuen, Mass., were immediately rearrested following the quashing of an indictment charging them with a violation on May 2, in Nashua, of the Anti-Sedition Act passed by the last session of the Legislature in Superior Court in this city.

The indictment was quashed on a motion filed by attorney Morris Katsen of Boston, counsel for the defendants, on the grounds that it does not set forth or charge a crime as provided in the laws of 1919, Chapter 155.

WOMAN TO AID ROLLINS

Will Be Called at Hearing to Tell of Seeing Murphy at Tea Store

The hearing on the application for new trials for George and Charles Rollins, convicted of murder to which John Murphy, Pennsylvania, convicted, will be resumed Saturday before the witnesses for the defense will be called.

Chief among the witnesses for the defense will be a woman who positively identified Murphy in Philadelphia as the man who pulled against her as he ran out of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea store after the shooting of Foley. With her will testify the Boston police who made the identification.

Senator David J. Walsh will undoubtedly be called as a witness. The Senator had a two-hour-and-a-half interview with Murphy just before the application for new trials was made and he was convinced of the sincerity of the convict's confession and of the fallaciousness of the two boys who have been convicted of the murders.

'WET' DECISION NOT EXPECTED TILL DECEMBER

Washington, June 2.—The United States Supreme Court may not hand down a decision in the liquor cases until next December because of the political issues involved. The liquor question, it was pointed out, is an issue in the political campaign now being waged and will continue to be an issue in the greater campaign coming after the presidential and congressional nominations.

AMERICAN WINS

RENT FIGHT

Five Bills Passed by Legislature Put an End to Profitsteering

The Boston American's fight for remedial rent legislation is won, and the campaign of the Boston American Tenant's League ends with victory for the tenants and honest landlords.

With the enactment of the 25 percent increase bill, and the second month's cap of sentence bill by the Senate, the last of the five rent bills which grew out of the comprehensive rent bill proposed by Representative

Coolidge signed these three bills, and live rent measures become part of the Statute laws of this Commonwealth. Three of these bills have already been enacted, and the two bills just enacted by the Senate complete the necessary quintet.

The two bills just enacted by both branches, and now awaiting the Governor's signature are:

- 1—A bill making any rent increase of more than 25 per cent. presumptively oppressive, and providing that any rent increase may be taken to court for adjudication.
- 2—A bill giving the courts power to grant six months' stay of proceedings in cases where victims of the three bills already law, extend

FORTUNES IN RUBBER!

Industry has been revolutionized by the great war. The world demands greater production and better quality products, and is willing to pay almost any price to procure them. There is no other country so fitted to fill the demands of trade as America—but we must have more and larger factories in order to increase the supply of finished products. To build factories requires capital, and as the banks are already doing all that they can for industry, we must go to the people for finance and pay a liberal price for it.

A HARVEST FOR INVESTORS

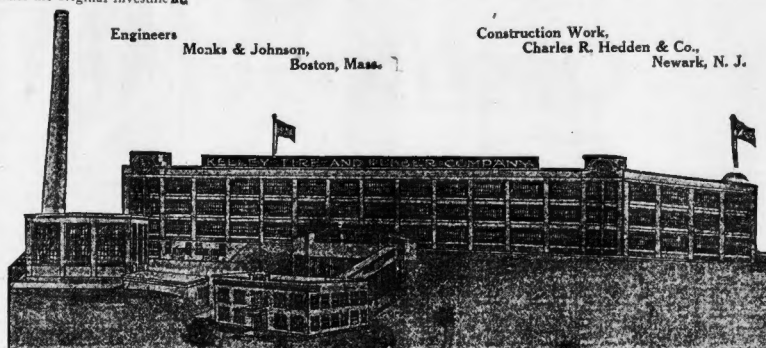

The World War, which worked so many other great changes, brought about an increase in the investor class from a few hundred thousands to several millions in number. People who never knew what thrift was are now fortunate owners of Liberty Bonds and other securities. They now have an opportunity of subscribing to a stock that may properly be described as of phenomenal promise. They can now buy it at a price that allows them to secure ten, twenty or thirty shares for a relatively small outlay, and they have the prospect of seeing their investment increased in value as other rubber stocks have done until it is worth many times the original investment.

Are Aspiring to Big Attainments, Says McSweeney at Roxbury Meeting

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Mission Hill Branch of the Friends of Irish Freedom and was in charge of Miss Margaret Walsh, who recently assisted the committee in the selection of its independence in making the Irish bond drive a success. The speakers, here, were Rev. Dr. Joseph P. Mullen of Boston College and Harold S. Sullivan. Former Mayor Curley also was present.

"France and England showed the greatest contempt for the United States," they said, "and the United States is to play the part of our superior." "I am," said Mr. Mcweeney. "He is the man who has been the greatest enemy of the Irish people in the French Chamber of Deputies and in an impassioned address told the members of the chamber of the church, the nuns from the convents, and raised his hand to the heavens and said: 'I will drive you to drive God along with them.'"

FRANKE CHALAN.

By Universal Service.

Paris, June 2.—Statistics compiled by the French Ministry of Finance show that more than 400 companies for touring the battlefields exist in France, nearly all having their headquarters in Paris.

Eleven of them are managed by Americans. Trips can be made by train, motor car or airplane.

The number of Americans visiting the battlefields daily is estimated at 4,600. Verdun is the first goal of pilgrimage, with Chateau-Thierry a close second and St. Mihiel, Metz and Rheims next.

Lawrence, June 2.—William Kelley and Frank Deneau, both aged 11, pupils at the Union School, North Andover, saved the life of their favorite horse "Jack" in a stable fire at J. Tremblay & Son's barn. It was recess time when the lads discovered the barn ablaze. They broke down the door and backed the animal out of its stall, risking their lives in the attempt. The barn was destroyed. The horse may die from smoke effects.

Wilson's Advisers Resent Suggestion of Intervention at This Time

By Universal Service.
Washington, June 2.—Domestic politics and the Fall report on Mexico were discussed by President Wilson and the Cabinet.
The suggestion in the Fall report that intervention must follow any further sacrifice of American interests in Mexico was not taken kindly by the administration advisers. One said that at that moment, when Mexico was about to straighten out her affairs, nothing could be so effectively thrown a monkey wrench into the relations between the two countries than the threat of taking over the government of Mexico, even temporarily.
This official termed as "unfortunate" the plan of the Fall commission to make a study of the

American Actress
Idol of London

DORIS KEANE.

Doris Keane is an American actress who has scored the greatest personal success in London of any American for many years. The star whose photograph "Romance" is now being shown at the Majestic went directly from the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, with that play to London four years ago this spring, and ran steadily in the British capital all through the war until the run was stopped about two months ago. "Romance" was written by Ed. Dwyer, Harvard man, and a graduate of Professor Baker's play school. He wrote "The Singer," "The Girl," and other successful dramas. "Romance" was first produced in New York with Doris Keane five years ago, ran a season, ran nearly a season in Chicago, then came to Boston, and then went to London. The little American girl became the idol of British theatregoers. The big film was made in England by the original "Romance" company.

SHAMROCK SURPRISES SHARPS WITH SPEED IN FIRST SPIN

OLD ABOUT MYSTERY GRAF

Vanitie and Resolute Ready to Start Races Off Newport Tomorrow

New York, June 2.—The Shamrock IV, a speedy sloop, was the vedette today of yachting experts who watched the Thos. Liggett's crewed challenger cut the water of Long Island Sound in her first trial spin under racing canvas. The Lupton entry in the International yacht race carried only mainmast and jib and wasal, and the spin was taken merely to stretch sails and racking but to Shamrock IV, slipped through the water at a surprising rate of speed considering the light breeze.

The challenger is still a "mystery" boat, however. Before she was put into the water she made a rather awkward appearance in her early trials, with her deck-plank bowsprit, rounded stern and aquaried-off ends. The Lupton crew, however, carried her into old form and when she was taken out of the water she was a sleek, lithe and fast. The Lupton crew, however, carried her into old form and when she was taken out of the water she was a sleek, lithe and fast.

The American junks, Vanitie and Resolute, will commence their race to determine the defender of Newport tomorrow. The Shamrock IV will be in the water tomorrow.

Blunder Keeps Tiger Track and Field Men Out of Heats

By CHARLES E. PARKER

Some attribute it to a Princeton blunder, while others aver British diplomacy is responsible. But what ever the cause the United States Olympic team will be without the services of any of the Tiger track and field stars when it crosses with Olympic rivals at Antwerp, Belgium, next month.

Previous acceptance of an invitation to participate in a triangular track meet with Oxford and Cambridge University, the rules governing the selection of men for the United States Olympic team specify that the best track and field men will be sailing the bounding blunder, headed for England, while the Olympic try-outs are in progress.

In the Princeton team there are several men the United States could use handily in the Olympic games. Allen Kneib, although finishing second in the 100-yard dash, is a strong middle-distance runner. He is a strong 220-yard man; Captain Newman is a strong 440-yard man; and a broad jumper of ability, and Thomson, only recently the winner of the intercollegiate all-around championship.

Several of these men would have been probable selections and all stand excellent chances of making the Olympic team. But now, as the result of accepting the triangular match with the English universities, they will be out of it and both they and the United States team will be the losers.

Custav Kirby, president of the A. A. U. and a member of the American Olympic committee, stated after the present meet that he saw no way of altering the rules to allow the selection of Princeton men who make the trip, and it can be safely ventured that all of Princeton's best performers will be included in the list of athletes going to London.

That the Intercollegiate A. A. U. should fall in line with the A. A. U. in establishing the rules governing the high jump was the belief of many of the better college coaches.

Templeton, the California high jumper, who was the winner of the event at the intercollegiate, enjoys the diving style of jumping that was used by Herbie and Beeson, and he had topped the bar but one inch in that fashion when a protest was entered.

The judges agreed his style was illegal, but Beeson Kirby overruled them, basing his judgment on the fact that Kirby had won all three of his jumps in the intercollegiate, and he was, therefore, prohibited the diving style.

Change of Scenery May Help Barrow's Band Out of Slump

By NICK FLATLEY.

Change of scene may help the Red Sox, who certainly happened on the terrible times, when entertaining the Yankees and the Athletics here to wind up a long home stand. The outfit is now on the road, and will meet until the strength of the west has been tested.

The team a week ago right in the red, and being as good as the best, was assigned to the Yankees. The Yankees swept through four straight games, and then, more horrible and horrible, the Athletics took three out of four. For years they had been able to win from their own substitutes.

The ultimate blow came in the far west, double header, when they were swept by the Athletics. The Sox have lost its pep entirely, the pitchers are out of their heads, and the Sox, up to a point, nothing wrong.

Change of Scenery May Help Barrow's Band Out of Slump

By NICK FLATLEY.

Change of scene may help the Red Sox, who certainly happened on the terrible times, when entertaining the Yankees and the Athletics here to wind up a long home stand. The outfit is now on the road, and will meet until the strength of the west has been tested.

The team a week ago right in the red, and being as good as the best, was assigned to the Yankees. The Yankees swept through four straight games, and then, more horrible and horrible, the Athletics took three out of four. For years they had been able to win from their own substitutes.

The ultimate blow came in the far west, double header, when they were swept by the Athletics. The Sox have lost its pep entirely, the pitchers are out of their heads, and the Sox, up to a point, nothing wrong.

The team must make a good road showing or be content to wait for the Yankees to come back. The Yankees are now on the road, and will meet until the strength of the west has been tested.

MEASURES THAT WOULD CURE MOST OF THE TROUBLES AND TENDENCIES WHICH DISTRESS AND ALARM US TODAY

- (1) To nominate for the Presidency by direct nomination and to elect by popular vote.
- (2) To elect the Cabinet officers and make them responsible to Congress.
- (3) To deprive the President of the power of patronage; to put all public offices as nearly as possible under Civil Service, and have appointments made by a committee of Congress.
- (4) To elect Federal Judges, including the Supreme Court Justices, by popular vote.
- (5) To apply the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall to national matters.

We Do Not Want to Make Our Attorney General Our Grand Inquisitor

Let Us Beware of Beef Trust Lawyers Bearing Gifts

When will our reactionaries awake to the fact that the war psychology has been laid aside by our people and that the excesses of government, the repression and bad faith exercised by those to whom we entrusted war powers and their faithfuls clinging to them after the war is over, has made the American people more sensitive about granting these extraordinary powers than they were even before the war?

We suppose, however, that one of the elements of the success of the predatory interests represented, for example, by Mr. Herbert Parker, as attorney for the Beef Trust, is their lack of sensitivity and their persistent thick-skinned attempt to do what everybody else condemns.

Here comes Attorney-General Allen asking for war powers in times of peace. He asks, at this late moment, for power to summon our citizens before him and give them the "Third Degree" any time he suspects that any of them may be doing something "against the public safety or the public welfare." To camouflage the bill another purpose is added, namely—to protect "the public health." Whether the public health is a cloak or not, it completes the vicious circle of espionage power, for there is nothing else left when you can spy on matters affecting the public health, public safety and public welfare.

Our political editor sends us the following notation on this bill: Herbert Parker or two ago sought to establish a sinister spy system in connection with the Attorney-General's office. He this year sounded the demand for this legislation when, speaking at a dinner in honor of Mr. Allen, he said that the Attorney-General should be given inquisitorial power.

This is a very bad bill. It is un-American from the beginning to the end of it. We do not want more of this kind of increase in the functions of government, but we want very much less. We have had quite enough of the government as a policeman. We want more of the government as a business man and less as a police man. Its police duties have been very badly done. It usually is found strong on the stronger side. It usually wields its club against some poor devil whose power to do harm is limited to some petty offence and looks the other way when a great criminal is plundering the entire people. Its jails are full of labor leaders, but never one of the thousand millionaire profiteers who have plundered the public during and since the war.

Attorney-General Allen is not the kind of man who impresses us as one who is likely to abuse this power, if he had it. But ours is a government of laws and not of men and we must carefully cherish this character of our government.

Mr. Herbert Parker, who has been so anxious for this kind of legislation, for reasons of his own or of his clients, is probably not seeking to give the Attorney-General's office this power because Mr. Allen is Attorney-General. He wants the office to have the power because he thinks that he or his kind of man can control the office some time later, perhaps.

While Mr. Allen's conduct of the fish investigation, which made him Attorney-General, leads us to believe that he could not be induced to abuse this power, if he knows it, yet we cannot have the inevitable tendency of which is toward abuse and to escape the abuse of which we must rely upon unusual public officials.

The Legislature has just refused Police Commissioner Curtis a somewhat similar power. It is not likely, at this late hour, to confer in many respects a greater and worse power upon Attorney-General Allen. Speaker Warner has publicly promised the people of this State that no important legislation like this shall be hurried through the Legislature during the last hours of the session, when the public opinion of the State cannot be brought to bear upon the question and when the legislators are neither in the mood nor have the time to investigate it. Mr. Warner has always been a man of his word. We rely upon it and upon the general psychology of the Legislature which has been taught the lesson in the past.

May we hope that with respect to this measure the ears of the Massachusetts Great and General Court will be better attuned to the "voices in the air" than the ears at the White House where this phrase was coined.

Senate's Action on Water Bill Shows Profiteers' Influence

Here is a fine spectacle presented by representative government as it works in Massachusetts. Several weeks ago the Massachusetts House of Representatives killed by a decisive vote the Water Power Bill, granting to private individuals certain undesirable rights to the water power resources of the State.

Yesterday, in the closing hours of the session, when everything is being rushed by without consideration, this thoroughly bad bill was passed by the Senate by a vote of 9 to 1—that is by a vote of one-quarter of the Senators. The rest of them sat in their seats, thus adding the bill to be passed, but not daring to take their stand in its favor.

The action of the Senate is one of many illustrations of the persistent and the never-say-die spirit of the profiteers—the men who want to get something for nothing out of the American people by the use of the power of our lawmakers.

"Safety First" Auto Rules

With a constantly growing volume of automobile traffic, it is in the highest degree important that the drivers of all automobiles of all sorts learn to drive with the utmost regard for safety.

To all drivers we recommend the following rules of the Halifax Automobile Association:

SOME "SAFETY FIRST" RULES.

- Drive as if every other driver was a born idiot.
- Drive as if all children and most pedestrians were bent on suicide beneath your wheels.
- Drive as if every hill had a chasm at the bottom.
- Drive as if every curve was a highwayman, a Bengal tiger and a stone wall.
- Examine your car before you start, not after you stop—and you won't have accidents.

More Truth Than Poetry

The Most Exalted Office on Earth

By S. E. KISER

DO you recall the once well-known tradition Concerning the high office and the man?

He was to be pursued by the position According to the now-forgotten plan.

It seems that dignity forbade a scramble To win the right to be a candidate;

There were no Proctors then—twas all a gamble, Or just a sort of give-and-take with Fate.

THEN came the later, less exalted fashion, When they who sought the Presidential chair Endeavored to enliven party passion

By waving bloody garments in the air. But that no longer fills us with excitement,

No aspirant now rises to remind His rival that he's under an indictment

Of having been rebelliously inclined.

NEXT came the era when the bosses taught us To trust in them and follow where they led;

We meekly took the candidates they brought us And ate the sweetened mush that we were fed.

That fashion, like the other, has been shattered; But they are multiplied and widely scattered—

They carry very little grist to mill.

TODAY the fitness of the man is rated By measures that are quickly understood;

The millions that the backers have donated Are proof, they tell us, that he must be good.

New times, new manners; when one method dies We must, of course, have others to consider;

It seems judicious now to advertise And sell the office to the highest bidder.

AN ENCOURAGING FACT

Whenever we read the list of candidates who are anxious to be President we feel glad that only one of them can be elected, anyhow.

ALL the time.

THE MAIL brings me letters.

THAT ASK me to write.

ABOUT FUNDS for churches.

AND SOLDIERS' memorials.

AND HOSPITAL funds.

AND SO many things.

THAT I'D like to help.

BUT if I did.

I WOULD have no time.

FOR OTHER things.

AND SO it is.

THAT I must run alone.

IN THE path I have made.

JUST DOING the best.

THAT I may do.

AND ON this day.

IT SEEMS to me.

THAT the best I may do.

IS TO have a plea.

THAT COMES up to me.

FROM THE street below.

IN THE street checks.

AND THE gladstone cries.

OF A group of kids.

JUST OUT of school.

AND ON my desk.

LOOKING UP at me.

AS I look down.

ON THE children's game.

SOME WRITTEN lines.

THAT BRING a picture.

OF VIENNA streets.

AND I hear no cries.

OF CHILDISH games.

AND LOOKING down.

I SEE, so slow.

ON CHILDISH checks.

AND I ask someone.

WHAT YOU have done.

THAT THE red-checked boy.

AND THE red-checked girl.

THAT VIENNA knew.

WITH A world at peace.

HAVE DISAPPEARED.

IN SUNKEN checks.

WHERE THERE is no slow.

AND IT seems to me.

THAT if I had a child.

WITH GLOWING checks.

I WOULD want it to know.

OF THIS other child.

WITH THE sunken checks.

AND I'D like to know.

THAT IN its name.

I HAD said me down.

AND WRITTEN a check.

OR SENT a bill.

TO THE same I see.

ON THE letter-head.

THAT LIES on my desk.

"VIENNA CHILDREN'S MILE Relief."

AND THE address is.

ONE HUNDRED and Fifty Nassau street.

IN NEW YORK City.

JUST DO it today.

AND THEN tonight.

TELL YOUR boy or girl.

WHAT YOU have done.

Not THE Individual, but ALL Individuals

And Some Other Things
Copyright, 1920, Star Company.

The National Association of Manufacturers sends out a "platform for American industry." It sets opinions on this platform.

The preamble says the manufacturers are worried about "the approaching declaration of political policies by great parties." That is all right.

It says "as manufacturers, we ask neither favor nor privilege." THAT is all right. It is highly important that no particular group should have special laws or other special government favors.

The manufacturers say, "The United States of America, under the Constitution, is not a Socialist democracy. It was established and shall remain a representative republic." THAT is all right also, although if you try to put in practice the principles underlying the establishment of this country you are told promptly that you are a "Socialist," or something worse—for instance, if you insist on free speech.

Next the manufacturers say: "It (the United States) was founded upon recognition of the moral worth and practical value of the individual. Reason and experience demonstrate him to be the dynamo of our social progress and the maker of our national character. The preservation of his initiative and self-reliance and his opportunity for self-development and self-expression are the conservation and promotion of our greatest social asset."

THAT is NOT all right. The United States is by no means exclusively or principally interested with the "moral worth and practical value" of "THE individual."

This country got rid of a government under which THE individual, the King of England in that particular case, could tax as he pleased and do as he pleased.

This Government was founded upon recognition of the moral worth and practical value of ALL individuals, ALL citizens of the country. Not "THE individual," but THE POPULATION of the country is to be the dynamo of our social progress and the maker of our national character.

THE individual is to be protected in his rights, but special laws are not to be made for him, special privileges are not to be accorded to him.

Laws and privileges are to be alike for ALL individuals. If the National Association of Manufacturers realize that they will avoid difficulties later.

England seems to have recognized Ireland

as a "nation" in a sort of way. British warships will be sent to Irish ports, according to a report in the New York Times. British soldiers, to work as laborers, will be sent over to carry munitions and supplies. English railroads will be sent to run Irish trains carrying English soldiers, because the Irish refuse to do any work in connection with the English military activity. All this is much like "going to war," and when you go to war with a country, you recognize it.

The House of Representatives voted the bonus for soldiers, but what the Senate will do remains to be seen. Senators are safer than Representatives. They do not come over for election so often, therefore unpleasant, politically dangerous work, such as telling soldiers there is nothing for them, is left to the Senate.

To provide the bonus extra taxation will be needed. It is amusing now to hear violent protests from those who claim that Armenian mandate, that would give America the job of policing Asia, holding back Russia "to save England, France, etc., from difficulty," as the New York Times put it. That mandate would cost a billion or more every year and cause many a new tax to be invented. Let the men that pay taxes and hate the sensation think about that.

If, by the way, those that boss the country are so agitated about a billion or so for soldiers, to be spent at home, what about that Armenian mandate, that would give America the job of policing Asia, holding back Russia "to save England, France, etc., from difficulty," as the New York Times put it. That mandate would cost a billion or more every year and cause many a new tax to be invented. Let the men that pay taxes and hate the sensation think about that.

"Patriots," giving "good reasons" for refusing a bonus to the soldiers, are especially worried because they fear "each soldier would squander his five or six hundred dollars all at once, thus upsetting business, adding to the high cost of living, the wave of extravagance, etc."

Strange that these gentlemen never worry about the hundreds of millions taken by the Wool, Sugar, Oil and other trusts, WITHOUT permission from Congress. Does gigantic trust-taxing add nothing to the high cost of living or the "extravagance wave"?

SHATTER, THAT'S THE MATTER
All through life you have followed the plan of doing as little hard studying as possible to keep up and make the showing you think desirable. At the present time you are applying yourself to "shut out" and getting a smattering of different subjects in order to make a bluff at being well informed.

You know as little about a subject that you cannot make any worthwhile use of it, of what advantage is it to you?

If you spent more time getting below the surface in any one thing of how much more use to you would that abundant knowledge be? You cannot take up any subject with the idea that you will get to do something in it without applying the fundamentals, and have anything which you will retain.

Of what use will it be to spend an hour a day on something and in such a slipshod manner that you will know nothing about it intelligently a year or two hence?

The world is fed up with bluffers and needs sincere workers today.
